

Car seats are different than when you were a kid.

- 1. Children are safer riding rear-facing. Leave them rear-facing until the seat allows (typically around 2 years of age).
- 2. Keep the harness. High weight harness car seats allow you to give your child the added protection of the harness longer.
- 3. Hang on to the booster. Don't rush the transition from booster to seatbelt. Many kids aren't ready for a seatbelt at 8 years old.
- 4. Stick with the back. Keep kids in the back seat until they are 13.
